What could make a smart woman ignore doctors orders What could get a hardworking employee fired from her job What could get a black woman in hot water with her white boyfriend In a word. . . HAIR. When does a few ounces feel like a few tons When a doctor advises a black woman to start an exercise program and she wonders how she can do it without breaking a sweat. When an employer fires her for wearing a cultural hairstyle thats unprofessional, and she has to go to court to plead for her job. When shes with her man, and the moment shes supposed to let loose, she stops to secure her head scarf so he doesnt disturb the do. TENDERHEADED Yes, definitely. All black women are, in one way or another. The issue is not only about looking good, but about feeling adequate in a society where the beauty standards are unobtainable for most women. Tenderheaded boldly throws open the closet where black womens skeletons have been threatening to burst down the door. In poems, essays, cartoons, photos, and excerpts from novels...
